

Before you go...

NICER WEATHER CALLS FOR MORE OUTSIDE TIME!

Time for a walk!

Are you prepared?

On or off leash, there is always a chance of your walking buddy wandering a little too far off.

Approximately every one in three pets will become lost at some point during their lifetime.

Does your pet have proper identification?

ID tags that hang off the collar or harness are a good way to have your contact information with your pet if they were to get lost.

Is your pet microchipped?

If your pet were to slip their collar, this would be a good way for someone to find your information even without an ID tag. Talk to your veterinarian today about having your pet microchipped!

New GPS smart collars

There are a number of new smart tracking collars on the market today. Many of which allow you to check their location directly from your phone.
